THE WAR IN SAMOA

Begun and Ended in a Single Night.

MATAFA COMPLETELY OVERTHROWN.

The King's Forces Victorious in a Short and Decisive Campaign—The Foreign Consuls Demand and Receive the Old Rebel's Surrender.

APIA, Samoa, July 19, via San Francisco, Aug. 4.—War broke out between Malletta and Matafa's forces, but the king's men advanced, the men of Matafa's side received friends and called out colonial greetings. Handshakes were indulged in and kava exchanged. It seemed as if friendly relations were to be re-established.

One ferocious old warrior named Patu urged the king's men back into the ranks, when somebody fired a shot and the fight commenced. Firing became general and deadly. On the sea beach, opposite the cattle yards, were posted a number of the king's men.

Matafa's men advanced to the wall and were exposed to a raking fire. Another detachment of Malletta's troops took advantage of an opening in the side of the wall to pour in repeated and deadly volleys. The Malletta's were forced to a stone wall a little distance in the bush. Here they made a stand and Malletta's men retired. When they attacked the place next morning Matafa and his men had fled.

On his way back from the fight Matafa, who was wounded, set fire to his own town, which was burned to the ground. At latest accounts he had gone to Upolu, where he was hemmed in and had no chance of escape. The foreign consuls at Apia have issued a proclamation ordering all the white inhabitants to keep away from the natives and to take no part in the hostilities. Malletta's forces number 2,500 men, while those of the rebel chief are only about 800.

During the night nothing unusual happened. The dead bodies of three of Malletta's men were brought in next morning. Wounded men were carried in one or two at a time, slung on poles or assisted to walk by their friends. Two wounded were put into a temporary hospital and attended to by surgeons. The government men, Speight and Bayard, while two others were attended to at the American consulate.

Pathe Broger, French missionary, addressed the chief justice on the question of the peace being granted to Matafa. He was referred to the consuls, who again referred him to the king. Father Broger was informed that his missionary would hear of no terms of conditions for peace.

In talking of the fight Father Keith of the Mission said: "There will be no more trouble. Matafa will surrender unconditionally, and that will end the war. He has been heard to say that he will surrender and end all trouble."

Matafa and His Chiefs Surrender.
Matafa and nearly thirty chiefs surrendered at the demands of the consuls. The following is the copy of a letter sent by the consuls to Matafa, demanding his surrender:

We the three consuls of the treaty powers, hereby give you notice that if you and your confederates and your soldiers and the English men of war within three hours from this time you will not give up the arms and the king's men will be obliged to attack you and you will be attacked by the king's forces. You will be obliged to surrender. If you do not surrender you must still send your men and children to the British man of war and they will be safe.

Matafa replied as follows:
To the Hon. Consuls, the Consuls of the Three Great Powers.

YOUR EXCELLENCIES I have agreed with all my heart to the conditions which you have offered with humility the great powers. Your excellencies I am.

The consuls issued the following proclamation:
TO ALL SAMOANS.—We consuls of the treaty powers, hereby give notice to all Samoans that Matafa and his chiefs have surrendered. The war is now finished. Any further disturbances will be treated as rebellion. All Samoans must return to their own districts. Any disobedience of this notice will be severely dealt with.

Human Eyes.
On the afternoon after the surrender the conquerors, Malletta's warriors, returned to Apia with the spoils of victory. These spoils consisted of the bleeding heads of human beings. Each man who had the luck to cut the head off an enemy carried through the streets of Apia with it.

They walked on the street yelling like demons, with eyes starting from their sockets with excitement, and throwing the severed heads about like baseballs. Blood dripping over the heads. Many heads were brought in in this manner and after being exhibited as trophies of war about the town were presented to Malletta as trophies of war. The king graciously received them and they were then thrown in a pile on the ground.

The white people took refuge on the verandas of houses while the warriors held the streets. The whites were at the mercy of the excited natives, who were crazed with victory and blood, and if there had been any clash would probably have been massacred.

United States Vice-Consul Blacklock was seen hurriedly making his escape from the town and was seen to be in the hands of the natives.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

A Sudden Advance in Ocean Rates.

CAUSED BY THE INCREASED EXPORTS.

Stocks Still Much Above the Lowest Prices of 1877, and Railroad Earnings Much Better—Failures Numerous But Less Important.

New York, Aug. 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, published this morning, says:

What has occurred about 400 ports & more at Chicago, and orders for exports have caused a sudden advance in ocean freight rates. A general surplus of wheat brought over a small surplus of other commodities, but meat demands, even though the crop proves to be satisfactory, have caused a sudden advance in prices of meat.

Secured unusual accumulations of pork and hog products, and a sudden advance in prices of these commodities. The country was able to meet all demands, even though the crop proves to be satisfactory, have caused a sudden advance in prices of meat.

Stocks at the lowest point this week averaged little more than $4 1/2 per share, but it is yet long way down to the prices of 1877, even at the lowest $2 1/2 per share, and the contrast between the condition and earnings of railroads now and then is greater than the difference in price.

Railroad earnings during the first half of the year show a record that shows a recent decrease and a reduction of rates for Western railroads. The condition of the country is not so good as it was a few months ago.

Business has been almost as numerous this week as for the two preceding weeks, but fewer have been more than last week.

CASH AND CHECKS.

It Makes a Difference Sometimes to Banks Which Are Used.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—One of the local financial news agencies printed the following dispatch received from their Chicago correspondent yesterday morning.

The Western national bank, of New York, having refused to pay a draft on the Chicago Trust and Savings bank, the president of the latter has put the draft in the hands of an express company, with positive orders to collect the cash. President Tolman of the Chicago Trust and Savings bank claims that he could not get $25,000 currency from the Western national bank. The balance to the credit of the Chicago institution is about $9,000. The position assumed by President Tolman is considered preposterous here. The explanation of President Tolman is, that the Chicago Trust and Savings bank, follows:

"We have not refused to honor the draft except in so far as the refusal is comprised in the following telegram sent by us to the Chicago Trust and Savings bank:

"The general situation here does not warrant a compliance with the request contained in your telegram of this date. Your deposits here are in clearinghouse funds and we're requiring clearinghouse certificates in payment of balances."

"This telegram is word for word, the same as telegrams sent to the First national bank of Chicago by the First national bank, the Fourth national bank, Chase national bank, and the City national bank. In fact, the action taken by the Western national bank in this matter has been after consultation with officers of other leading banks of this city, and is quite in harmony with their views and their action in similar cases."

The remittances of Chicago banks to their New York correspondents consist almost without exception of checks on other banks outside New York. According to custom and agreement, these checks, if they are drawn on banks on cities not removed from New York, are credited to Chicago banks, although in many instances the money is not received for them for several days, and some of the banks are not paid until the following week. Consequently, while technically the Chicago banks have money here, as a matter of fact they have to a great extent only paper credit pending the actual collection of checks. At present, when remittances of checks on New York are made, the money but in checks, and when these checks are paid in clearinghouse certificates, you can easily see that it is only a matter of very short time when the Chicago banks will have cash, and nothing but clearinghouse certificates to represent reserve.

Of course one means of protection could be secured, viz: The refusal to transact business at all with Chicago, unless the banks there would agree not to insist on cash. This would be an extreme measure, and would probably result in a suspension of commercial relations."

Dr. Cyrus Edison, City Health Commissioner of New York, Talks Reassuringly and Gives Some Good Advice to the People.

New York, Aug. 5.—Dr. Cyrus Edison, health commissioner, will say in the forthcoming issue of the American Druggist and Pharmaceutical Review:

It is to be regretted that some of the newspapers resort to sensational news and thus unnecessarily alarm the public in connection with contagious and infectious diseases. While much good is accomplished through such sensational news, the law of sanitation through unreasoning fear and nervous dread which is caused by these methods. The more facts the Kalamazoo was detained at Kalamazoo Thursday should not be a source of great alarm, for even in the history of this country has the sanitary condition been so good.

HORSE AND CARRIAGE STOLEN.

A Red Horse Stolen from the Synagogue
Hooded Broad Daylight.

This forenoon at 11 o'clock, J. H. Myers, who resides at 550 West Edmond street, residing in a buggy drove to the house of Grant & Co's hardware store, and hitched his horse to a post, while he went off to a clothing store to buy a pair of pants. He was not gone longer than 15 minutes. On his return the rig was gone and was nowhere in sight. There was a boy, a son of F. H. Wood, foreman at the Race Company's clothing manufacturing department, who had reason to remember the rig and the driver, as he came near being run over as he crossed the street. The man in the buggy was a stranger, and he was whipping the horse vigorously as he drove up North Main street. The boy saw him turn east on North street, and it has since been learned that the thief passed north on Water street, driving rapidly. A partial description of the thief has been obtained through the boy, and it is in possession of the police. The horse is 8 years old, 15 1/2 hands high, dark bay, black mane and tail, and will weigh 1200 to 1400 pounds. The buggy is a narrow tread wheel vehicle with top, with a piece torn out of the rear blind. It has a square box body. The horse and rig are valued at about $150.

MUST PAY THE $400.

The Illinois Central Will Have to Pay its Right of Way.

During the past week City Attorney Lee has been battling successfully in the county court in the interest of Deatur and against the Illinois Central Railroad company, which corporation again refuses to pay the sum of $400 assessed for the paving of that portion of its right of way at and near the Wood street crossing of the road. The objection to the assessment roll was made by O'Brien, Esq., attorneys for the I. C. company, notwithstanding the fact that recently the United States supreme court, in a similar case in Deatur, decided that the company must pay its special assessments. The company put up about $1200 on that decision. Judge Nelson heard the arguments in the Wood street case, and to-day he gave his decision, confirming the assessment roll and sustaining Attorney Lee in all the points he advanced in behalf of Deatur. The fact that each year the I. C. company pays to the state 7 per cent of its gross earnings for all time, does not relieve it from paying assessments for public improvements along the right of way.

TO LOOK IN A WELL.

An old well on Asa Parmenter's farm, on Orange township near Daleburg, will be cleaned out to-day by the sheriff to ascertain whether the remains of a young man named Henderson lie at the bottom. Henderson was working for Parmenter and mysteriously disappeared several years ago. Parmenter claimed that Henderson and left with Cook & Whitely's circus. The neighbors believed that Henderson was foully dealt with. Last summer Parmenter filled up the old well and dug a new one. The circus reappeared there Tuesday and there was no such man as Henderson with it. The disappearance of Parmenter within the last few days has increased the suspicions of the people and caused the sheriff to decide on taking the present course.

Fight With Circus Men at Fairbury.

Before the Lemon Grove circus came to Fairbury last night, a fight broke out between two of Fairbury's boys and a few hangers on with the show got into a quarrel, which grew so warm that the fifty hostlers and campers with the show seemed the toughest, making the home contingent disappear in the darkness. Many received broken heads. Several attacks of the show were so seriously injured that they had to be carried to the city. The doctor removed their blows from their own friends, as in the darkness they could not ascertain whom they were striking.

Poor Prospects for Swedes.

During the last few years Swedes have been emigrating to Rockford in large numbers and engaging principally in furniture making. During the present summer and last spring hundreds came, expecting to go to work in the factories newly started or to be started. The present depression has prevented the starting of new factories and turned the others out down their forces of men. Many of the late comers from Sweden are returning, and it is expected that between 1000 and 1500 will leave the summer is over. Most of them came this year.

Stock Die of an Incurable Disease.

Many horses, cattle and dogs are dying of a disease in a region seven or eight miles west of Albion. The state veterinarian inspected the animals and pronounced the disease malignant anthrax and incurable. He has issued an address to the people of that region not to allow a public meeting at Scott Station, Wayne county, August 8, to meet the State Board of Live Stock Commissioners.

PENSION EXAMINING BOARD.

Change of Physicians Made at Last —The Favorites.

Since Grover took the executive chair to crack the whip over the people in the management of National affairs, the make-up of the Deatur Pension Examining Board has been a matter of general speculation, particularly among the Democrats. The Republican members of the board are Drs. T. B. Spalding, W. F. Walbridge, of Deatur, and McConnell, of Blue Moon. In the press telegrams from Washington, to-day the announcement is made that the Republicans are to go as soon as they can pack their traps and move out. The newly appointed members of the board are Dr. N. D. Myers, Dr. M. H. Farnar and Dr. W. T. McLean, all Democrats. The new board will meet in the near future and organize for work.

PLAYED THE WHEEL.

Tom Brayden, the Wheat Thief, Known to Have Been in Deatur Last Night.

Tom Brayden, the scheming farm hand who stole two wagon loads of wheat from J. B. Hager, selling the same for $80, is known to have been in Deatur last evening. He played the wheel in a gambling room to the tune of $10 and went out later. The police got a story this forenoon that Brayden was in a restaurant on Water street early this morning. METHODIST MINISTERS.

Chat About the Coming Conference to Be Held at Clinton.

Bishop Fowler will preside at the session of the Illinois Conference, Methodist church, to be held at Clinton, beginning September 20th.

At that conference Rev. T. A. Parker, pastor of the First M. E. church, of this city, will be transferred to another point, at his request.

It is probable that Rev. George Stevens, presiding elder of the Bloomington district, who has served the full term of six years, will superannuate, owing to failing health. He may go to Florida.

There will be two other elderships to be given out by Bishop Fowler. Rev. J. T. Orr, of the Mattoon district, will retire, and the West Jacksonville district will be vacant because of the expiration of Rev. M. W. Erhardt's term. As to the candidates for the elderships, their names are legion. Those talked of for the places are Revs. Hooper for Mattoon, Smith for Bloomington, and Danley and Sison for West Jacksonville.

Rev. T. D. Weems, of Moscow, will give up the active work at conference.

Revs. A. H. Noble, Samson, Shinn, John Everly and T. J. Bryant have died this year. Rev. W. H. Musgrove, of Nashville, gave up his charge on account of poor health, and removed to Ohio, and Rev. M. H. Hosack transferred to Colorado. Rev. A. T. Orr will live in Buffalo, Ill., with his son, who is principal of the public schools there.

Champaign Gazette. Rev. R. G. Hobbs, pastor of the First Methodist church, this city, has been considered for the position of chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

The vacancy was made by the resignation of Chancellor Craghton. The Board of Trustees met some days ago to make the appointment, but adjourned to give it further consideration.

Among the names associated with that of Mr. Hobbs for the position, are President Hatcher, of the Hot Springs (S. D.) college; Dr. Samuel Wier, of Evanston; Samuel Deakey, of Albia, Mich.; Dr. Thomas Russell, of Greenacres, Ind.; Prof. W. F. Wilcox, of Delaware, O., and others. The position is quite a prominent one, and salary of $3000 a year, and Mr. Hobbs's Champaign friends feel considerable pride over the fact of his being considered in that connection. He says he is not a formal applicant for the position and knew nothing of it until some friend sent him a copy of the program of the proceedings of the board.
